(54) Title: CALCULATION METHOD OF A CUMULATIVE HISTOGRAM

(57) Abstract: The invention relates to a calculation method of a cumulative histogram. Such a method comprises calculation stages in which at least two additions are used in parallel. Each addition permits to calculate an addition result. The additions are made either with two histogram values or with one histogram value and one addition result calculated during a previous calculation stage, or with two addition results calculated during one or two previous calculation stages.
